Text clustering algorithms are divided into a wide variety of differ- enttypessu chasagglomerativeclusteringalgorithm s,partitioningalgo- rithms, and standard parametric modeling based methods such as the EM-algorithm. Furthermore, text representations may also be treated as strings (rather than bags of words).

IBM T. J. Watson Research CenterYorktown Heights, NY charu@us.ibm.com. 1.1 Introduction. The problem of data clustering has been widely studied in the data mining and machine learning literature because of its numerous applications to summarization, learning, segmentation, and target marketing [46, 47, 52]. In the absence of specific labeled information, clustering can be considered a concise model of the data which can be interpreted in the sense of either a summary or a generative model.
